

TOPIC: "SAY WHATEVER YOU WANT, BUT BE HONEST"

Our play is about honesty. In our case, we're going to have two tables – an honest table and a dishonest table and you'll see what each table is talking about. As for the characters we have the people sitting at the tables, the waiter, the person who finds the ring and the policeman. We hope you enjoy it!

DISHONEST TABLE:

-(WAITOR) Hello. Welcome to our lovely restaurant. Did you book a table?

-(MAN1) No, we didn't.

-Don't worry. I will find something good for you. Maybe this one?

-Okay.

-Have a good time!

-Ladies first.

-(WOMAN) Oh, what a gentleman.

-You look very beautiful. By the way, I really like your hair.

-Oh thank you, you look good yourself too. Where did you buy this ring?

-I bought it for my grandmother...Unfortunately, she died a week ago...

-Oh, I am so sorry.

-It's okay. Me too.

HONEST TABLE:

-(MAN2) Tell me something about you.

-“WOMAN”) Well, I am not an ordinary woman.

-What do you mean by that?

-Let's rather not talk about it. Why don't you tell me a few things about yourself?

-I will go to order now. What would you like to eat?

-Hmmm...I would like a steak with a big portion of chips and perhaps a salad, because I'm on a diet.

But you didn't answer my question!

-Which question? Oh right...Well, I am not an ordinary man either. You see, this ring...

-Ring? What ring? Did you get me a ring? Oh, you shouldn't have!

-Not exactly.

-(STRANGER) Excuse me! Who does this ring belong to?

-It's mine! Give it here!

-I found it by the entrance. It must have fallen out of your pockets.

-Yes, you are right! Thank you anyway.

-Is that the ring you were talking about?

-Yes...but I never bought it...I borrowed it...

-And what do you mean by that?

-Well...I...Actually, I stole it...

-Oh my gosh, you can't be serious!

-I am. I'm sorry for not telling you earlier, but I am a wanted person. I stole this ring about a week ago and the police is looking everywhere for me...Luckily, they haven't found anything yet.

-To be honest, I am also hiding something...so I don't blame you...

-Oh right! You didn't tell me about you!

-Well...Actually, I am a man!!!

-Uhm, Okay...I should probably go now...

-(POLICEMAN) See the police! Down on the ground!

From what you've seen in the honest table if they hadn't spoken the truth the "woman" would date a thief, and the man (thief) would date a man. If it hadn't been so, it would be a complete mess up. However, it doesn't mean that honesty – that being honest – means being rude, so one should find the golden middle. Thank you!
